WHO IS SLCAN?

Sustainable Labs Canada (SLCan) is a national non-for-profit created in 2013 with the goal of fostering national and international cooperation in the laboratory community.

Since 2013, SLCAN has grown to more than 300 members across Canada and internationally, with local Chapters in Halifax, Toronto, Montreal, Vancouver, and Ottawa. The Chapters support the local lab community by organizing collaborative events, including workshops, seminars, and presentations. The Chapter events and National Conference are open to members of SLCAN, and non-members who may be interested in joining the SLCAN Community.

WHY FOCUS ON LABS?

Laboratories require a large amount of energy and resources to provide a safe and productive environment for people working in laboratory facilities.

A typical laboratory consumes 5 to 10 times more energy than an office per square meter. The Federal Government alone has almost 200 laboratory sites across Canada. There are also over 80 degree-granting Universities across Canada that have many laboratories operating continuously on their campuses. The private laboratory sector is another significant part of the Canadian laboratory industry, with many new start-ups and developed companies building facilities in cities across Canada.

WHO ARE THE SLCAN MEMBERS?

SLCAN members are focused on the development of sustainable labs, laboratory optimization and innovative designs and technology. Many of the members include:

- ◆ Research Hospitals
- ◆ Universities
- ◆ Government Labs
- ◆ Biotech / Pharma companies
- ◆ Service Providers
- ◆ Architects
